

ACRL Microcard Series Abstracts of Titles*

CAVANAUGH, SISTER MARY STEPHANA

Catholic book publishing history in the United States, 1784-1850. Rochester, N.Y., University of Rochester Press for the Association of College & Reference Libraries, 1954. (iii, 198 l. 28cm. ACRL MICROCARD SERIES, no. 32) Thesis (M.A. in L.S.)—University of Illinois, 1937. Biblio. l. 130-140. 5 cards. $1.25.

The purpose of this study is to trace the origin, scope, and progress of Catholic book publishing in the U. S., within the period stated. The biographical method is used and an attempt is made to answer such questions as: Who were these Catholic publishers? What factors in their education and environment prepared them for their work? What important books did they make available to American Catholics? As far as possible the study has been made from the books themselves; from autobiographical and contemporary accounts of the lives and works of the publishers; and from recognized authorities in printing and in Catholic Church history.

CALDWELL, JOHN CHARLES

The use of the accession book in the libraries of Pennsylvania colleges and universities in 1954. Rochester, N.Y., University of Rochester Press for the Association of College and Reference Libraries, 1955. (iv, 41 l. tables 28 cm. ACRL MICROCARD SERIES no. 33) Thesis (M.S. in L.S.)—Drexel Institute of Technology, 1954. Bibliography: l. 39-41. 2 cards. $.50.

The study was based upon data collected by questionnaires sent to the librarians of the universities, liberal arts colleges and teachers colleges in Pennsylvania; replies were received from sixty-three (86.3%) of these. A tabulation of the returns showed that 40 libraries maintained accession books, 23 did not. There was great variety in the reasons given for maintaining an accession book, the information recorded in it, and the use made of this information was analyzed as were the reasons given for not maintaining the book and records which were used as substitutes.

ROLOFF, RONALD WILLIAM

St. John's University Library: an historical evaluation. Rochester, N.Y., University of Rochester Press for the Association of College and Reference Libraries, 1955. (vii, 319 l. illus., diagrs. 28cm. ACRL MICROCARD SERIES no. 34) Thesis (M.A.)—University of Minnesota, 1953. Bibliography: l. 314-319. 8 cards. $2.00.

Unusually complete records have made it possible to trace the development of a small college library (95,000 volumes) from its earliest beginnings, and thus illustrate the history of libraries from the standpoint of the ordinary small institution.

The study covers the years 1869 to 1951 and reveals the stages by which a library or religious works is gradually transformed into a balanced collection for a liberal arts college. Special attention is given to the various developments of the school itself, to the growth of the collection in terms of specific titles, to library service, and to problems of cataloging and classification which arose.

BAKER, HELEN MALMBERG

A survey of studies and trends in reading readiness. Rochester, N.Y., University of Rochester Press for the Association of College and Reference Libraries, 1955. (iv, 81 l. 28cm. ACRL MICROCARD SERIES no. 35) Term paper, Library Science 404, University of Illinois, 1950. Bibliography: l. 73-81. 3 cards. $.75.

A survey of research studies in the field of reading readiness, including those which show the beginnings of research; the factors included in this field with emphasis on the factor of maturation; the measurement of reading readiness; methods and materials used in readiness activities; and the direction of current research.

COFFIN, GEORGIA ROSE

John Macock, a seventeenth century printer. Rochester, N.Y., University of Rochester Press for the Association of College and Reference Libraries, 1955. (i, 166 l. 28cm. ACRL MICROCARD SERIES no. 36) Thesis (M.S. in L.S.)—University of Illinois, 1948. Bibliography: l. 165-166. 4 cards. $1.00.

The purpose of the thesis is to list, as far as possible, the works that issued from the press of John Macock, who printed in London from 1645 to 1692, and who may have been the J.M. who printed Milton's Paradise Regain'd of 1671 and the History of Britain. The list includes all titles bearing the name John Macock or the initials "J.M." No claim is made that the "J.M." imprints are necessarily those of Macock.

The method included searching item by item the Stationers' Transcript, Arber's Term Catalogues, 1668-1709, Wing (vol. 1 and part of the galley proof of vol. 2), Thomason, McAlpin, and numerous smaller or specialized bibliographies and dealers' catalogs. All of the items in the University of Illinois Library were collated; those located elsewhere were described as fully as the available bibliographical information allowed.

GLADECK, ALBERTA ALMA

The library of the Franklin Institute. Rochester, N.Y., University of Rochester Press for the Association of College and Reference Libraries, copyright 1955. (iv, 35 l. 28cm. ACRL MICROCARD SERIES no. 37) Thesis (M.S. in L.S.)—Drexel Institute of Technology, 1953. Bibliography: l. 33-35. 2 cards. $.50.

This brief paper on the library of the Franklin Institute does not attempt to be a critical analysis of the history of the library. Instead it tries to show the steps which took the book collection from the homes of the members of the library committee to a wing of the building which the Franklin Institute now occupies on the Benjamin Franklin Parkway in Philadelphia. A brief summary of the early cataloging and classification systems used is included. The history of the Journal of the Franklin Institute and the struggle to become a patent depository likewise receive attention.

MICROPRINT CARDS

New Kodagraph Microprint Reader makes them a pleasure to read

The microprint idea can reduce the largest library to a small set of cards. Sixty conventional pages can go on a 3 x 5-inch card, with an abstract and filing data in ordinary-size type on the other side.

The Kodagraph Microprint Reader lets you read in complete comfort. The screen is green and tilted 11° because that's the combination that seems to be easiest on the eyes. It's bright enough to use in ordinary room light. Several people can read at a time.

You feed microprint cards into a Kodagraph Microprint Reader like paper into a typewriter—any size up to 8½ x 14 inches.

Many publishers offer microprint card editions. Many are also prepared to make microprint cards for you from your own literature and reports.

To get started on a microprint system that can help solve the problems of debulking, speedy dissemination, and storage of literature and private internal data, mail the coupon below.

LIBRARY BUREAU'S NEW TREND COLOR LINE USED AT YALE DIVINITY SCHOOL

Trend Color Line Apronless Tables, newest in Library Bureau's complete line of library equipment, are shown in the photograph. These beautiful new tables are available in natural birch and with tops in soft decorator colors—sage green, aster rose, desert tan and cocoa brown—meeting the growing trend to use of color in libraries. Further, these tops can be furnished in special colors to harmonize with your decorative scheme.

All have our new PermaSeal baked finish—a satin-smooth, non-glare surface—which will withstand long wear and abuse. Years of research and experimentation went into the development of this new finish.

Trend Color Line Tables are available in either the pedestal end shown in the long tables or the splayed type of leg used on the individual study tables.

Note the modern design of the new Cherner library chairs. These represent the ultimate in chair design for library use—built to Library Bureau rigid specifications for a lifetime of service.

People have asked what exactly makes librarians so pleased with our Freeline reading table. It is probably a number of things. Some people go for appearance—and it certainly is a handsome table. Others are primarily concerned with the comfort of the reader, and they like the generous amount of room between table top and chair seat. Most of us like something different and fresh; we recognize the flair of the Freeline. But all wise administrators keep an eye on the future: they can see that here is something which will please the most for the longest time.
